

CELEBRATION OF
AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION DAY

3rd December, 2016

It is proposed that on December 3, 2016 each ICAR institute and Agricultural University will celebrate Education Day by organizing different events. The day has significance as it is the birth day of the first Union Minister of Agriculture of India (Interim Government of India) and first President of Independent India, Bharat Ratna, Dr. Rajendra Prasad. Therefore, to celebrate the occasion an inspirational lecture, by Dr I.R. Rathore, Retired Scientist, AAU, on “Entrepreneurship in Agriculture with focus on Advance Technologies” was organized by International Agribusiness Management Institute, AAU, Anand. All the students and faculty members attended the lecture and evinced deep interest. Huge economic benefits without any associated detrimental impacts of more than 15 contemporary agricultural technologies including tissue culture and bio-fertilizers motivated the students to take up agribusiness as a successful venture in the career. Apart from speaker, the faculty members also shared their experiences and answered the questions raised. Dr. YC Zala, Principal of the institute, while sharing his experience asked the students to be the Job creators instead of Job seekers and for that agribusiness can help you more than any other area as it has wide scope.
