

Dr. M. L. Gaur, Principal , CAET Godhra has bagged “ IASWC Fellow – 2015 Award “ As Conferred by Indian Association of Soil & Water Conservationists, Dehradun

Recognizing the gigantic 30 years experiences (research, academic, extension & others) in the field of Natural Resources Management (NRM) and relevant deliverables while serving in six diverse states of country on different positions, the Indian Association of Soil & Water Conservationists (IASWC) Dehradun has conferred its prestigious award namely “ IASWC - Fellow for 2015 ” to Dr. M. L. Gaur, Principal , College of Agricultural Engineering & Technology (AAU) Godhra. The award was conferred in a specific function organized by IASWC on 8th March, 2016, during “Global Ravine Conference” organized at Rajmata Vijayaraje Sindhiya KrishiVishwa Vidyalaya (RVSKVV) Gwalior (MP). Dr Gaur was facilitated with shawl, the award and the citation in presence of renowned professional personalities namely Prof. V. P . Singh (Distinguished Professor, Caroline & William N. Lehrer Distinguished Chair in Water Engineering, Texas A&M University, USA) , Dr. Alok Sikka ( DDG, NRM, ICAR New Delhi), Dr. Pratap Narayan (Ex Hon’ble Vice Chancellor S K Agril University, Bikaner Rajasthan), Dr. A K Singh (Hon’ble Vice Chancellor , RVSKVV Gwalior MP), Dr. P K Misra (Director, ICAR-IISWC Dehradun) and many distinguished persons. The contribution of Dr Gaur to deal with more than 15 natural watersheds in different parts of the country under varied schemes and missions were applauded, where his valuable offerings from real grounds to advanced levels of NRM remained praiseworthy and path making.