

SMC College bagged Three Awards in DuPont NutriScholars Awards 2017

Innovation. Knowledge. Expertise.
It's What's Inside.

NutriScholars
AWARDS 2017 | It's What's Inside local and ethnic Indian foods that matters

Academic Year 2017-2018 | Season 1

DuPont Health & Nutrition have organized pan-India, 'DuPont NutriScholars Awards' program to promote innovation in local and ethnic Indian foods amongst food science and technology students across Indian universities and institutes. The program confers award in 3 categories viz., 1. Best Innovation in Local Food, 2. Most Nutritious Food Idea and 3. Ultimate Health & Wellness Product. As part of the program, a team from DuPont organized awareness program at SMC College of Dairy Science, Anand for the students and faculty of Dairy as well as FPT &BE on 3rd August 2017.

Among the 35 teams selected from all over India, three teams for SMC College of Dairy Science has been selected for the first phase awards.

S. No.	Project Title	Team Members	Mentor	Award Category
1.	Synbiotic cool king	Zeel Modi Bhoomika Desai Krupa Shingala Jinal Chaudhary	Dr. Bhavbhuti M. Mehta	Best Innovation in Local Food
2.	Development of sugar free date chhana podo cupcakes	Preeti Paul Neha Vasava Shivani R. Mishra Neha Chauhan	Dr. Suneeta V. Pinto	Best Innovation in Local Food
3.	Development of fermented health drink: prohealth+ buttermilk	Kunal Manohar Gawai Mitali Makwana Deepti Suman	Dr. Sreeja V	Ultimate Health & Wellness Product

DuPont Danisco India shall provide ingredients for project and provide fund of Rs 10,000/- to the mentor of each team for the support of experiment. These products and final project proposals will be competing for phase 2 of the DuPont NutriScholars Award 2017.

Hearty congratulations to all the teams and all the best for final round.