

KVK Devataj Celebrated World Veterinary Day

Krushi Vigyan Kendra, AAU, Devataj celebrated World Veterinary Day on April 30, 2016. Invited guest for this programme was Dr. Pankaj Gaikwad, Veterinary Officer (Maghrol). At outset Programme Coordinator of KVK Dr. G.G. Patel welcome all the livestock farmers and gave welcome speech. Dr. G.G. Patel asks livestock farmers to visit KVK for scientific livestock farming He also suggested farmers to go for scientific livestock farming for more profit. Dr. S.B. Katole, Scientist (Animal Science) discussed about the role of animal nutrition in animal husbandry, vaccination and agriculture, deworming, role of bypass nutrients etc. for increasing production. Dr. Katole told the farmers about the theme of World Veterinary Day is “One Health Concept” that means to how veterinary officers continually focuses on to increase their expertise on “One Health Concept” such as zoonotic diseases, food safety or antimicrobial resistance and how they collaborate with the human health sector to tackle these issues”. He also told the farmers how to avoid the spread of zoonotic diseases.

Invited guest Dr. Pankaj Gaikwad told the farmers regarding various schemes of State Government for livestock farmers such as subsidy on chaff cutter, milking machine, cattle shed, goat unit etc. He also discussed about the health aspect of animal husbandry. He invited farmers to visit veterinary dispensary and seek help, if any, they have regarding their animals. Mrs. A.B. Parmar Scientist (Horticulture) discussed about the various horticultural crops and organic farming, preparation of farm yard manure, vermi-compost etc. Progressive farmer Mr. Deepakbhai C. Patel of village Israma shared his experiences on net house, organic farming. He insists farmers to go for organic farming. Various scientist of KVK Devataj then interacted with farmers and answers were given to their queries about the animal husbandry as well as agriculture. At last Dr. Aakash Mishra Scientist (Soil Science) proposed the vote of thanks. Total 50 livestock farmers participated in this programme and all staff of KVK joined hands for success of this program.

Glimpse of World Veterinary Day

