

Celebration of Agriculture Education Day at B. A. College of Agriculture, AAU, Anand

The Agriculture Education Day was organized by National Service Scheme(NSS) of B. A. College of Agriculture on 30th november, 2017 to celebrate the birthday (3 December) of the first Indian union agriculture minister (1946) and the first President of Independent India, Bharat Ratna, Dr. Rajendra Prasad at BACA auditorium.

The special guest Lecture on Future Opportunities and Importance of agriculture was organized on "Agriculture Education Day" celebration, where Dr. S. S. Kamalkar, the director, Agro-economic Centre, V. V. Nagar, Govt. of India had delivered his lecture and gave the reality of agriculture with the factual data. He emphasized and narrated the ample opportunities in agriculture sector where the Indian youth will be more needed and explain that agriculture has vast opportunities in coming days.

At this function Dr. K. P. Patel Dean and principal of BACA was remain present and encourage the students as well as faculties and gave message to develop interest in agriculture and allied sciences and engage themselves in farming as agri-entrepreneurs.

In addition to this Dean also mentioned about the importance of National Agricultural Higher Education Project of ICAR. It will ensure the development of infrastructure, competency and commitment of faculty, and attracting talented students to agriculture. The project will help to create job opportunities and entrepreneurship through agricultural education.

Dr. Bakul Joshi, the alumnus of BACA and Representative of F.M.C. a multinational company presented his special talk on future opportunities of agriculturist and its importance in recent era. His speech motivated to the large number of students (350), scientist and faculties who remained present during the talk. Students from BACA and CAIT were participated in the interaction session as well.

Dr. S. H. Akabari, DSW of the AAU were remain present and gave his special remark with congratulate the students who were actively participate in interaction session. The whole programme were successfully arranged by NSS programme officer Dr. Sunil Macwan, BACA, Anand. Dr. V. P. Ramani, Dr. D. J. Parmar, Dr. K. C. Patel and Prof. Rucha Dave extended their support to the celebration of Agriculture Education Day.

