

Inauguration of the buildings: Sheth D. M. Polytechnic in Horticulture, Boys and Girls Hostels at Model Farm, Vadodara

Shri Babubhai Bokhiria, Hon'ble Agriculture Minister of Gujarat State inaugurated the newly constructed buildings of Sheth D. M. Polytechnic in Horticulture and Boys and Girls Hostels at Model Farm, Anand Agricultural University, Vadodara in the presence of Shri Shaurabhabhai Patel, Hon'ble Finance Minister of Gujarat State and Dr. N. C. Patel, Hon'ble Vice Chancellor, Anand Agricultural University as well as other dignitaries on 3rd July, 2016.

Shri Babubhai Bokhiria emphasized on giving more inputs to agriculture sector for overall development of the state and the nation. He explained the strength of this sector and also commitment of the Government for bringing socio-economic upliftment of the rural people. Contribution of Horticulture in providing employment to rural youth was also highlighted.

Shri Saurabhbhai Patel suggested to establish more number of vocational training centres for the rural people. He also appreciated the scientists of AAU, Anand, for working as per the expectation of the farmers, thereby helping the Government to solve the farmers' problems.

Both the Hon. Ministers along with other dignitaries then witnessed the presentation with regards to activities of Model Farm, Vadodara and appreciated the contribution of this farm for various activities related to agricultural research, especially on pulses, and agricultural education.

During the inaugural function, Dr. N. C. Patel narrated the importance of Polytechnic in Horticulture in the present scenario and explained the contributions made by the university with the support from the Government of Gujarat.

