NATIONAL DAIRY & FOOD QUIZ CONTEST

6-7 September 2019

16th National Dairy Products Judging Contest

Increasing quality consciousness amongst consumers makes it necessary for the dairy plant personnel to monitor sensory qualities of dairy products with utmost vigilance. With a view to provide necessary exposure of judging and developing the skills for better sensory evaluation of dairy products in the technocrats; Alumni Association of SMC College of Dairy Science in collaboration with Faculty of Dairy Science, Anand Agricultural University, Anand is organizing 16th "National Dairy Products Judging Contest" on 6th September, 2019 (Friday).

Who can participate?

There will be two categories of participants (1) UG or PG students from academic institutions, and (2) Dairy plant personnels. In each category, a team comprising of 2 members (sensory evaluators) can participate. Each institution/dairy plant can send only one team for the contest. A teacher/team leader may accompany the team members.

Type of dairy products and system of evaluation

The dairy products selected for this year's judging contest are Milk, Processed Cheese and Shrikhand. Standard score-cards will be provided to each evaluator. The panellist may be asked to identify as well as rank the intensity of the defects. The scores given by individual panellists and team average will be compared with the score given by the expert panel for deciding the winners of contest. In each category (i.e. Academia, Dairy plant), two trophies will be awarded to the winning teams. Two prizes will also be awarded to individual evaluators. All the participants will be provided with a 'Certificate of participation'.
