“Tell me and I forget. Teach me and I remember. Involve me and I learn,” this famous quote by Benjamin Franklin sums up what exactly the teaching does and how important the role of a teacher is in one’s life. Teachers are the foundation of everyone’s life. They are the stepping-stones that mould and nourish one’s raw talent and potential. It is to honour such remarkable forces of our lives we celebrate Teacher’s Day.

Teacher’s Day is celebrated every year on September 5, the birth anniversary of Dr Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, the second president of India. Dr Radhakrishnan believed that the “teachers should be the best minds in the country”.

The students of College of Agriculture & Polytechnic in Agriculture celebrated Teacher’s Day on 6th September, 2016. Total 30 students of both the colleges participated in this programme. At the end of the day a gathering was arranged in the auditorium hall. In this programme, the Principal and Unit Head, College of Agriculture & Polytechnic in Agriculture Dr.Y.M.Shukla, the faculty members and the students of both the colleges were present. The students who performed the roles of teachers shared their feelings of gratitude towards their teachers. They also shared their experiences of being teachers and promised to be teachers in future to be helpful to the society.
