

Visit of Farmers from Singvad, Dist. Dahod to Main Vegetable Research Station, Anand Agricultural University, Anand

Forty farmers from Singvad, Dahod district, took a visit to the Main Vegetable Research Station at Anand Agricultural University in Anand on July 30, 2024. Detailed information on research in various vegetable crops was provided by Dr. R. R. Acharya, Research Scientist (vegetables), Main Vegetable Research Station. During this visit, information on various crops and their improvement programs, as well as different trials and seed production programs in brinjal, chili, tomato and okra was provided by Dr. M. M. Pandya. Additionally, Dr. N. A. Patel provided information about the entire research station and the nursery preparation in the vegetable crop. Mrs. Minaxiben, a representative from the Sadbhavana Group, Dahod, expressed gratitude for giving the information on vegetable crops.

