

National Anti-Ragging Day Observed at Polytechnic in Agricultural Engineering, Dahod

The Polytechnic in Agricultural Engineering, Dahod, observed National Anti-Ragging Day on August 12, 2024, with a series of impactful events aimed at fostering a safe and inclusive campus environment. The program was meticulously coordinated by SRC Chairman Dr. F.G. Sayyad, alongside Prof. S.S. Chinchorkar, Er. J.B. Bhimani, Mr. B.P. Solanki, Er. M.S. Khardiwar, and Er. D.M. Pardava.

The day commenced with an informative seminar where senior faculty members highlighted the severe consequences of ragging and the legal frameworks in place to combat it. The seminar also addressed the mental and physical toll ragging can take on students, emphasizing the importance of creating a supportive campus atmosphere.

Students showed their commitment to a ragging-free campus by taking a pledge to uphold the dignity and safety of all students. The event featured interactive sessions where participants shared their thoughts on preventing ragging and promoting a positive, welcoming environment for everyone.

In his concluding remarks, the Principal Dr.B.K.Yaduvanshi of the Polytechnic reiterated the institution's zero-tolerance policy towards ragging and the importance of vigilance in maintaining a safe campus. He praised the efforts of the coordinators and emphasized the administration's readiness to take immediate action against any form of ragging.

The observance of National Anti-Ragging Day at the Polytechnic in Agricultural Engineering, Dahod, was a significant step towards ensuring a ragging-free and harmonious educational experience for all students.
