

Students at Polytechnic in Agricultural Engineering, Anand Agricultural University, Dahod Celebrate Teachers' Day with Enthusiasm

Students of the Polytechnic in Agricultural Engineering, Anand Agricultural University, Dahod celebrated Teachers' Day with great zeal, honoring the legacy of Dr. Sarvapalli Radhakrishnan, a respected educator and philosopher whose birth anniversary is observed as Teachers' Day across India. The event was marked by 25 students taking on the roles of teachers for the day, symbolically performing the duties of their mentors, an initiative that fostered a deeper understanding of the teaching profession.

Principal Dr. B.K. Yaduvanshi addressed the gathering, briefly explaining the importance of Teachers' Day. He emphasized the pivotal role educator's play in shaping not only the minds but also the character of their students, contributing significantly to nation-building. His speech inspired both students and faculty to reflect on the vital contributions of teachers in society.

The program was meticulously framed by Dr. F.G. Sayyad (SRC Chairman), Er. J.B. Bhimani (Academic Incharge), Prof. S.S. Chinchorkar, Er. M.S. Khardiwar, Mr. B.P. Solanki, and Er. D.M. Paradava, ensuring an enriching experience for both students and staff.

A highlight of the celebration was an in-depth presentation by Mr. Savan, a first-year student, who spoke eloquently about the life, philosophy, and contributions of Hon. President Dr. Sarvapalli Radhakrishnan. His thoughtful insights into the role of teachers in society resonated deeply with the audience.

Under the guidance of the organizing team, the event unfolded smoothly, with students expressing their gratitude towards the faculty for their dedication and mentorship. The celebration concluded with a vote of thanks, recognizing the efforts of the teaching staff and celebrating the strong bond between students and educators.
